GERMANY KEEPING PLEDGES ON SUBS

No Facts Developed by Investigation Threaten Friendly Relations Between Washington and Berlin—Marina and Rowanmore Cases Incomplete.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, Nov. 13.—Broad investigations by American diplomatic officials in London and Berlin have not to date revealed facts in the new German submarine warfare that threaten the continued friendly relations between Washington and Berlin. The grave feeling growing out of news dispatches from British sources relative to the sinking of the British steamers Marina, Rowanmore, Arabia and the American steamer Columbian has been greatly dissipated by official reports containing more accurate information. Press dispatches from Paris saying the Columbian was held two days before being sunk so the crew could be safely put into small boats was accepted by state department officials as removing all probability that a diplomatic issue would result from the submarine attack upon that vessel.

RAILROAD CRISIS AGAIN THREATENS

President Wilson Confronted With Such Possibility Upon Return to Washington—Brotherhoods Will Strike, They Say, Unless New Law Is Effective in January.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, Nov. 13.—The possibility of another crisis in the wage fight between the railroads of the country and the operating employees confronted President Wilson when he resumed his official duties here today.

The president learned today that conferences of the railway executive advisory committee have developed a strong sentiment among the railroad managers to fight the eight hour law passed by the last congress in the courts. Government officials have been informally notified by the representatives of the four brotherhoods involved in the strike demands, that no matter what legal action is taken, unless the eight hour day becomes effective on the roads by January 1, 1917, the general strike, narrowly averted two months ago, will be called.

Determined to prevent a general strike at almost any cost the president will take up this new phase of the railroad situation with his advisers in congress and with his cabinet. If another crisis develops it is certain that he will intervene to preserve the victory won when he forced congress to enact the eight hour law in September.

Members of the joint senate and house committee named at the last session of congress to conduct a general investigation of the entire railroad situation, will reach Washington this week. The president will take up the strike situation with them in discussing the general inquiry.

Meantime the railroads probably will attack the eight hour day law in the courts.

Three Refusals Received.
Of the nine challenges to school teams by the 1915 Kingston High School football eleven for a contest in this city on the afternoon of Thanksgiving Day, three refusals have been received by the local hopefuls. The schools challenged are Albany, Troy, Mechanicville, Poughkeepsie, Newburgh and Middletown High Schools, Eastman's Business College, St. Stephen's College and Peckskill Military College. Eastman's has no team this season. Newburgh is booked for Thanksgiving Day and Poughkeepsie is willing to play only school teams. Also their season ended last Saturday. Last year's veterans have not yet appeared for practice but when the call is issued, at least thirteen men are available.

Another Note to Norway.
By Telegram to The Freeman.
Amsterdam, Nov. 13.—It was reported here today that Germany has decided to send another note to Norway on the submarine question. Germany accuses Norway of taking a prejudiced stand against German submarines.

Mr. Terrell Guest of County.
James Terrell, 60 years old, has registered at the county hotel at 1515 Wall street for a three months' visit. Public intoxication was the charge lodged against Mr. Terrell by Sheriff Shultz.

Rochester, N. Y., Nov. 13.—The first snow of the season was recorded here today. Snow began falling at 10 o'clock this morning.

STORM WARNING BY WEATHER BUREAU

By Telegram to The Freeman.
New York, Nov. 13.—The weather bureau today gave out the following storm warning:

"Northwest storm warning order 10 a. m. South Florida coast, Tampa to Jupiter Inlet, disturbance central in the vicinity of Swan Islands increasing in intensity, will move northward, attended by strong shifting, probably of gale force, over the east portion of the Gulf of Mexico, southern Florida and Cuban waters."

MEXICAN PROBLEM STILL UNSOLVED

Carranza's Control of Situation Is Doubtful by Administration Officials—Loan Negotiations Savor of International Blackmail According to State Department.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, Nov. 13.—President Wilson upon his return to Washington after victory at the polls found the Mexican situation still menacing. The entire Mexican problem is among the subjects scheduled for earnest consideration this week at a conference which the president plans to have with Secretary Lansing.

In official circles there is little expectation that a solution of the border difficulties will be reached at the meetings at Atlantic City between American commissioners headed by Secretary Lane and Mexicans under the chairmanship of Luis Cabrera.

Unofficial reports that the Mexicans propose to bargain for a loan on the strength of agreeing to a border compact with the Americans meet with no approval at the state department. Officials very frankly stated today that they did not propose to permit any such club to be held over their heads and that the proposal sounded too much like international blackmail. There is no indication now that the state department will approve a loan to Mexico and with such approval there is no likelihood that American bankers would care to rehabilitate Carranza's finances.

There is therefore little prospect that any tangible results will be achieved by the Atlantic City conference. Outstanding is the fact that there is no present purpose to withdraw General Pershing's American forces. Not only is northern Mexico entirely beyond General Carranza's control, but today's reports of the brutal massacre of more than 100 men, women and children by Zapatistas in Morelos, near the very seat of Carranza's government, has caused officials to doubt whether Carranza exercises any real control over any part of Mexico.

FOUR OF MY BOYS' ARRESTED

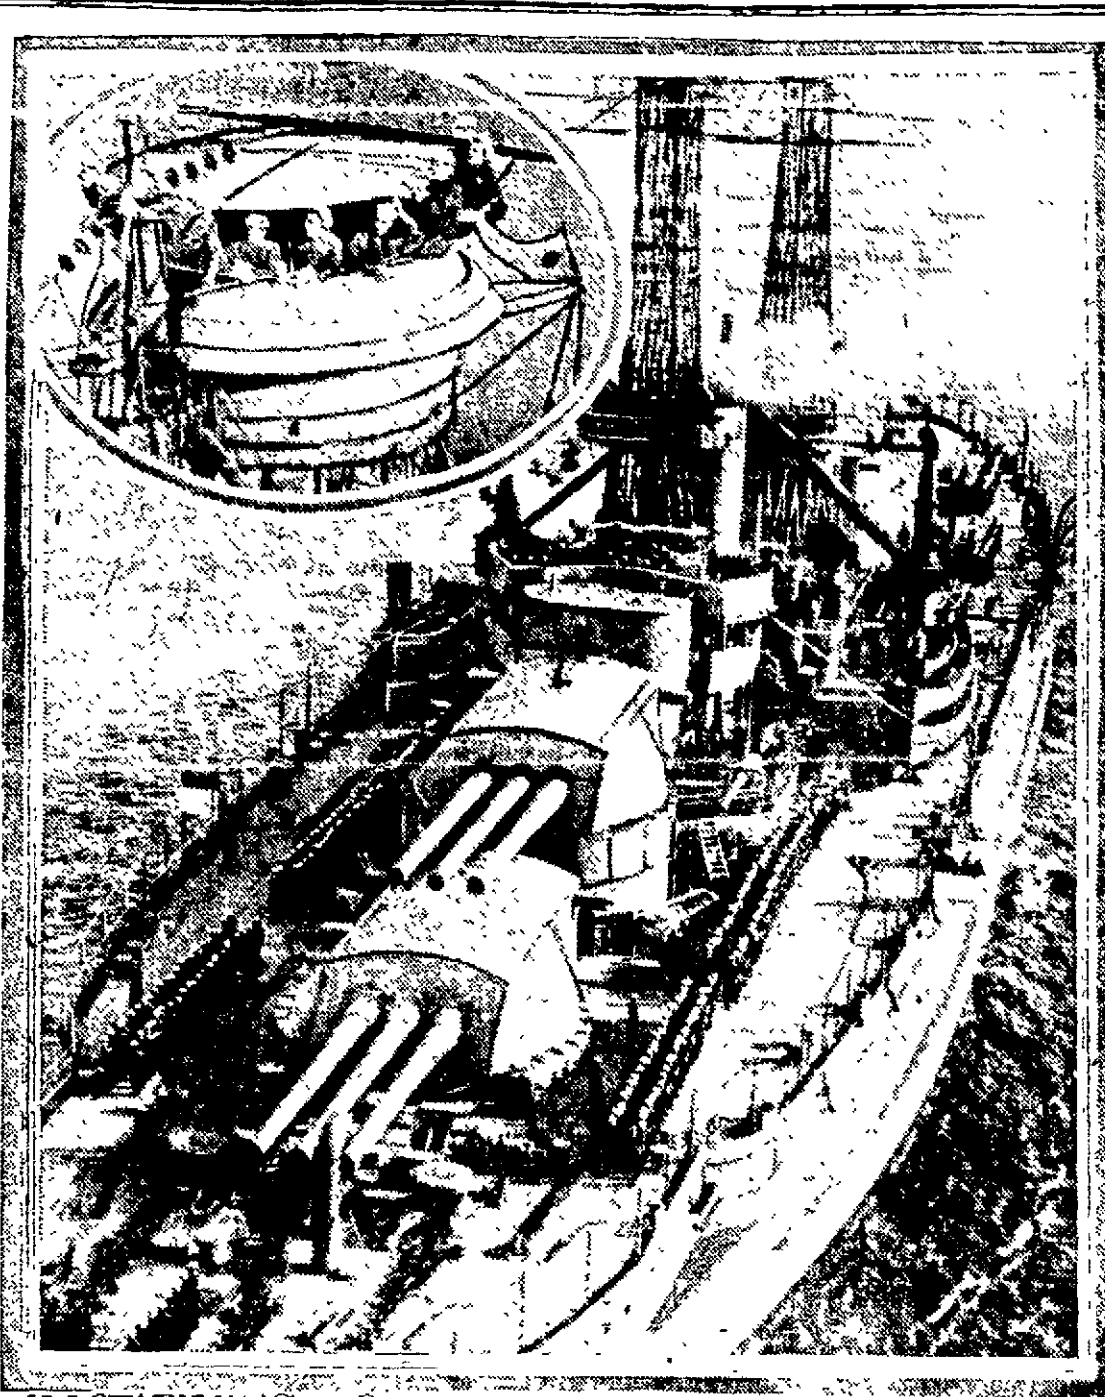

Stole Covers of City Garbage Cans to Take Part in Democratic Demonstration—Ann Street Dodgers and Ravine Street Terrorists.

Policeman Shader found it necessary on Saturday night to arrest four boys taking part in "My Democratic R. R. Men's Parade" and take them to the city hall where they were paroled until Sunday morning when Recorder Lang held a special session of court to dispose of the case. It appeared that the boys had stolen the covers from the city's garbage cans and used them to make a noise with while taking part in "My Parade." Owing to the fact that all of the boys were very penitent and all were under fifteen years of age the recorder suspended sentence on condition that the boys replace the covers on the cans, which they did.

Policemen Connelly and Simpson rounded up a gang of boys from the lower section of the city on Sunday. The boys are said to be members of the Ann Street Dodgers and the Ravine Street Terrorists. Sunday evening the two gangs got into a pitched battle firing stones at one another. All of the boys were not present in court today and Recorder Lang held the case open until next Saturday afternoon when other boys said to be members of the gangs will be urged to be present. The boys in court today said they were not guilty, and were not members of either gang. These gangs of boys have made life miserable in the lower section of the city.

Poised as a Millionaire.
By Telegram to The Freeman.
Pittsburgh, Nov. 13.—The desire of Robert Williams, 20, church choir singer, to pose as a millionaire's son before his chorus girl friends, caused him to appropriate a new $4,000 automobile, according to the police, who are holding young Williams on a technical charge until his case can be fully investigated. Williams is said to have come here from Cleveland several months ago and to have moved in the highest social circles.

U.S.S. ARIZONA AND HER BOMB PROOF FIGHTING TOP.

These steel covered tops are intended as a protection against the bombs of hostile aviators. Should the Arizona engage in battle and hostile aviators approach, the sailors in the fighting top would not remain in the positions that you see them in the picture. They would bob down out of sight and under the protection of the steel lid endeavor to pick off the enemy airmen. This photograph is not a new one, but it is the first time that the Arizona has been seen in this position. The picture was made "close-up" on the fighting-top as the dreadnought passed under the Brooklyn Bridge, on its way out to sea from the Brooklyn Navy Yard, for which Captain John Macdonald described as a "shaking down."

GARFIELD MAY ENTER CABINET

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, Nov. 13.—Leaders of the Progressive wing of the Democratic party were authority today for the statement that President Harry A. Garfield of Williams College is being considered as a member of the new cabinet to be formed after the second inauguration of President Wilson. It was said the subject was discussed informally by the president and Mr. Garfield during the president's short stay at Williamstown last week, although it was not decided what portfolio he may receive.

GRAVES'S ARREST STIRS DIPLOMATS

German Embassy Expected to Demand Copies of Documents Taken by Department of Justice From Alleged Spy—Berlin Has Report.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, Nov. 13.—A diplomatic issue today threatened to grow out of the arrest here of Armand Carl Graves, self-styled international spy. Officials of the state department are expecting the German foreign office to make an immediate demand that the department of justice surrender copies of the documents found in Graves's possession when he was arrested Saturday on the ground that the papers were embassy property and officials of this government were outside their rights when they read the documents.

The matter has been reported to Berlin by Ambassador von Bernstorff. Should this government comply with their request, which is expected to be done, the principal evidence against Graves would be lost. The criminal charge of blackmail against him probably would result in his immediate deportation from this country without a prison sentence being imposed. He would be sent back to London, where, he says, he is wanted on a charge of being a spy.

Chief Bilecki of the bureau of investigation of the department of justice, continued today to delve into the case. At the same time Secret Service Agents in New York city and elsewhere are searching for further information as to how Graves obtained the embassy documents.

MAY BE CONTEST OF I. N. COX WILL

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Chicago, Nov. 13.—Out of the Far West a blizzard is bearing down upon the Middle West today and rapidly dropping temperatures and light rains turning to snow presage its arrival.

BLIZZARD COMING FROM THE WEST

Wisconsin and Iowa today are covered with a blanket of snow, one to twelve inches deep, which came in yesterday and last night on the wings of a high wind that in some localities assumed the proportions of a gale. Drifts are piled high in both states.

In Montana the mercury had dropped to 17 degrees below zero and it is 16 degrees below in Yellowstone Park. Freezing weather is general over the middle west.

Union Services in Rondout.
Until the Rondout tabernacle is ready for revival meetings the Rondout Presbyterian, Methodist, and Baptist churches will unite in their Sunday evening services. Sunday witnessed the start of these popular meetings in the Trinity M. E. Church and Rev. C. G. Ellis of the Presbyterian Church delivered a sermon before a good sized audience. The combined choir of nearly 25 voices sang beautiful music, which bids fair to be a strong inducement to attendance at these meetings. Next Sunday evening's meeting will be held in the Presbyterian Church and Rev. A. K. Fuller of the Baptist Church will preach the sermon.

Parent-Teachers' Association.
The November meeting of the Parent-Teachers' Association of School No. 2 will be held Tuesday afternoon, November 14, at 3:30 o'clock. Mr. Thornberry, the new secretary of the Y. M. C. A., will give a talk on "Stimulating the Boys to Higher Ideals" and Mrs. George Lowe will sing. A large attendance is desired.

R. W. Smith Missing.
It was reported to the police on Sunday that R. W. Smith, 17 years old of No. 121 North Front street, has been missing from home since Friday morning. He was dressed in a brown check suit, tan shoes and wore a soft hat. Any information should be telephoned to police headquarters.

EMERSON MOTORS IS SPECULATIVE

Tribune Shows That Buying Stock Is Taking a Long Chance on Getting Any Returns.

The New York Tribune on Sunday devoted more than a page to a story of the stock manipulations of the Emerson Motors Company, Inc., which recently located a factory in Kingston, and demonstrates by figures, and interviews with officers that the stock is highly speculative in character, and that the investor pays a very high price and takes a very long chance on securing any dividends.

At the outset it is asserted the company's officers sold stock of a par value of approximately $3,000,000 for $1.75 a share to N. F. Wilson in order to procure immediate cash to begin operations. This stock sold to Wilson has subsequently been offered to the public at $7 a share.

A summary attached to The Tribune article says of the Emerson Motors Company, Inc., that:

It is controlled by the promoters, who wrote down on the books, "plans, specifications, etc., $6,990,000," and for this drew off a majority of the common stock.

It still intends to enter the motor business.

Its total showing of physical plant and equipment up to November 1 was a leased floor in Long Island City and an unequipped factory building at Kingston, N. Y.

It cannot reach a production of 30,000 cars a year and get the advertised profit of $69 per car until the public has bought $450,000 of preferred stock. The inducement to buy preferred stock at $10 a share is that two shares of common stock out of the treasury will be assigned to the buyer of each share of preferred, but that decreases the value of the common shares the public has already bought.

If the public will put up money enough the Emerson Motors Company will get into the motor business. Then if, in the future, parts and materials have not risen prohibitively, it may be able to produce an Emerson Motor for $200. Then it will be up to the car to make good in competition with the Ford and others, and the risks will begin all over again in new terms.

Wilson gets his.
Those styling themselves investment brokers get theirs.
Only the public can lose.

Of the proceeds, as The Freeman has already stated, upwards of $60,000 has been deposited in Kingston banks, the company has bought the old Peckham property, paid off $5,000 on the mortgage and entered into contracts aggregating $20,000 for improvements to the local plant. Its payments have been made promptly for labor and material in this city and so far as is known there is now no special effort being made to market stock here.

The Chamber of Commerce has at no time endorsed the stock as an investment.

WILSON'S HEALTH WORRIES FRIENDS

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, Nov. 13.—The strain which President Wilson was under the last few days of the campaign and the days following election is delaying the writing of his message for the opening of congress. It is probable that the president will take a rest for ten days or two weeks before setting to work on it.

The president's physical condition is a source of worry to his physician, Dr. Cary T. Grayson. Dr. Grayson has advised Mr. Wilson against going to the Army-Navy football game at New York November 24, fearing the strenuous occasion would prove too much for him.

It is understood that if the president yields to the wishes of his advisers and takes a rest, it will be at Hot Springs, Va., where he spent his honeymoon.

PATRICK FINNEGAN GOT DRUNK AGAIN

In Fact He Got Drunk Every Saturday Night According to His Wife Who Had Him Arrested—They Agreed to Live Apart.

Saturday night Patrick Finnegan of Furnace street after he had quit work for the day proceeded to get drunk, and raised such a rumpus that night that a neighbor at Mrs. Finnegan's request escorted Patrick over to the city hall where after a consultation with the police it was decided that Mrs. Finnegan was to call at city hall on Sunday morning when Recorder Lang would be asked to be present and she could secure a warrant for her husband's arrest.

The warrant was issued Sunday and later Sergeant Hanley placed Mr. Finnegan under arrest, and the case was tried before Recorder Lang. Several neighbors were present in court to corroborate the wife's story. According to Mrs. Finnegan her husband made it a practice to get drunk every Saturday night when he would misbehave. She said she was able to support herself and was willing to live apart from her husband if he agreed to pay $5 a week toward the support of the children.

Mr. Finnegan pleaded guilty to disorderly conduct and Recorder Lang sentenced him to thirty days in jail and suspended sentence provided Mr. Finnegan keep away from his wife and pay her the sum mentioned each week. This he agreed to do.

THREE AMERICANS AWAITING DEATH

Two Charged by Carranzistas With Being Cattle Thieves and Third as Spying for Villa—Carranza Troops Evacuating Chihuahua.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
El Paso, Tex., Nov. 13.—Three Americans, sentenced by Carranza military authorities to die at dawn, still were alive early today while renewed efforts were being made from this side of the border to save their lives.

Albert Harrold is held in jail at Chihuahua charged with being a cattle thief, Joseph Williams, who supplied General Pershing with beef, is held at Juarez on the same charge, and Benjamin Brothman, a Pershing scout, also is in jail at Juarez. He is accused of being a Villa spy.

Despite announcement by General Trevino that he would remain at Chihuahua City and defend it against the approaching Villa troops, arrival today of trains loaded with troops indicates that the evacuation of the city is already under way.

Refugees arriving here today said that only a small force of General Trevino's troops remained in the city and that they would evacuate without a fight the moment Villa appeared.

Villistas have captured another supply train and routed a Carranza force in a skirmish near Fresno, a few miles west of Chihuahua, according to reports received here today.

Captain H. B. Scoville, British consul at Chihuahua, has been recalled by the British ambassador, because of conditions there, it is reported here. Scoville has been in charge of American interests at Chihuahua since Consul Letcher was called home.

They Put Fire Out.
Saturday afternoon while Morris Adin and David Markson of this city were motoring along the Rittion road they saw the roof on the Eckert cafe on fire, and stopping the machine they jumped out and with the aid of a fire extinguisher put out the incipient blaze.

False Alarm of Fire.
This morning a false alarm of fire was rung in from Box 42, corner of Broadway and Spring street, at 12:50 o'clock. A passerby saw smoke coming from a chimney and thought the building was on fire.

Chicago, Nov. 13.—Training of 15,000 civilians on the Great Lakes each year is planned by the navy department, according to announcement made today by Franklin D. Roosevelt, assistant secretary of the navy. He had just completed an inspection of the Lake Bluff Training Station here. It was pointed out that the station can care for several hundred more than usually are in training and that during the summer 15,000 can be accommodated in tents.

His most notable work during the war is 'An Densus de la Meuse' (Above the Struggle). He is the author of 'Jean Christophe' which has been called the greatest novel of a generation.

search of scientific data in all parts of the world. It is planned to probe into Brazilian jungles where white men never before have set foot. Many strange peoples will be encountered, and specimens of strange animals, plants and flowers brought back. Mrs. Rice will enjoy the distinction of being the first woman to engage in a cruise of exploration of such magnitude.

Part of the trip up the Amazon will be made on the Alberta. When sand-bars are reached, however, the party will continue on into the interior in a launch, and then take to land travel.

Animal Cemeteries.
The largest and best appointed animal cemetery in the world is undoubtedly that which still remains attached to the ruined Summer palace in Peking. Here repose in coffins of polished orris wood elaborately carved more than 1,000 dogs, the delect pets of former emperors of China.

The "tomstones" are of marble, but a certain number are of agate, lapis lazuli and ebony inlaid with silver. At the sacking of the palace by the allied European troops in 1900 considerable loot was obtained from this unique burial place.

In London is a "dogs' cemetery" situated behind the keeper's cottage at Victoria gate, Hyde park. Here are interred some 200 dogs and about a dozen cats. Each grave is between two or three feet in depth, and some contain as many as three dogs, each in its separate little coffin. The pets of all classes of society are represented.—London Standard.

Chrysanthemums Shaded.
Many of the fine chrysanthemums which are produced in this country are grown neither under glass nor in the open, but under cheesecloth. In California a large number of Japanese are engaged in this work, a branch of horticulture in which they excel. The equipment of one Japanese chrysanthemum grower at Alameda, Cal., is detailed in Popular Mechanics. It includes an area 100 feet square covered with cheesecloth supported eight feet above the ground by a light wooden framework. Near the edges the roof of this cloth house slants; elsewhere it is level. In a delicate plants are set out about ten inches apart, protected from the wind, sun, dust, insects, etc. As they grow they are carefully pruned so that each plant has but one stem on which there is a single flower. The cheesecloth lasts only a few months and has to be renewed every season.

"Blue" Murder.
The curiously free use of the word "blue" in old saws and sayings invented by our ancestors is apt to prove puzzling to us moderns.

Why, for instance, "blue murder"? Why not "red murder," which certainly seems more appropriate?

The explanation is that blue was anciently supposed to be the color of cowardice, and to "shoot blue murder," therefore, came to be indicative more of unfounded terror than of real danger.

Similarly a "blue funk" means a state of utter, unreasoning and unreasonable panic, and the expression a "fit of the blues" indicates that the person so suffering is in such depression of spirits that he is inclined to give up weakly the struggle against fate. And everybody knows what "blue" Monday is.

Pussy and the Bell.
Cats are certainly not so demonstrative as dogs; but, according to many cat lovers, they are quite as sagacious. Archbishop Whately has recorded that his mother's cat habitually rang the bell whenever it wanted a room door opened. On the first occasion that Pussy made her wish known in this way the family had retired to bed.

"In the middle of the night," says the archbishop, "the parlor bell was rung violently. The sleepers, startled from their repose, proceeded downstairs with poker and tongs to intercept, as they thought, the predatory movements of a burglar. But they were equally surprised to find that the bell was rung by Pussy, who frequently repeated the act whenever she wished to get out of the parlor."—London Spectator.

The Lion Didn't Roar.
It is related that Pinnow, the faithful servant and personal valet of Prince Bismarck, once trod on his master's gouty foot. Instead of swearing at him or even declaring he was a clumsy fool, Bismarck, noticing that Pinnow himself was frightened, said: "Consider yourself honored. No other person, my dear Pinnow, not even the Kaiser himself, would have been suffered to tread on my corrus."

Thought Measurement.
"A man is as big as the terms in which he ordinarily thinks," remarked the wise citizen.

"That is dreadful!" exclaimed Miss Cayenne. "My father is a scientist, and he is accustomed to getting his ideas with a microscope."—Washington Star.

A Bumper.
When a glass is as full as it possibly can be of liquor the surface of the liquor is slightly convex and the center lies higher than the brim. In view of this fact such a glass is called a bumper, because the liquor bumps up or protrudes in the middle.

Hot Dishes.
To make dinner plates and dishes hot before sending to the table dip them in very hot water instead of putting them in the oven. This takes only a little more time than putting them in the oven and is less liable to crack the china.

Light Breakfast.
"I was awfully hungry when I woke up this morning."

"Did you do anything for it?"

"Oh, yes; I took a roll off the bed."—Exchange.

A Maxim.

THE WORST EVIL.
If you would avoid evil you must avoid your companions in evil. No evil dooms us hopelessly except the evil which we love and desire to continue in, and from which we make no effort to escape.

CLEARWATER TALKS ON PROBATION

The ninth annual state conference of the probation officers of the state opened at the high school in Poughkeepsie on Sunday afternoon, Judge Clearwater presiding. He delivered the principal address upon "Probation as an Aid to the Administration of Justice." Addresses also were made by Dr. Herbert E. Mills, head of the Department of Economics of Vassar College on the subject—"The Offender or Society, who is Guilty?" and by Arthur W. Towne, superintendent of the Brooklyn Society for the prevention of cruelty to children on "Probation Officers' Opportunity." Among the distinguished guests on the platform was the Hon. George E. Parsons, Commissioner of Charities of the State of Massachusetts.

Judge Clearwater said that the primitive idea of dealing with the offender was that of the Pharonic dynasties, the Hebrew Theocracy and the ancient law of the Romans, The Lex Taliones—an eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth—and notwithstanding the teachings of the Christian religion, the primitive view had prevailed until recent times. A hundred years ago they hanged men in England for stealing sheep, burning of barns and passing counterfeit money. While humanity had accepted the doctrine of the atonement and the remission of sins, they had been largely inclined to confine its operation to the individual seeking forgiveness who not infrequently was incredulous as to its application to his neighbors. In the closing years of the nineteenth century and in the opening years of the twentieth, a new idea came into being which was that a penal institution was the worst possible place to which young offenders could be sent, and most persons who committed crimes were under thirty years of age. The state of Massachusetts in 1878 had adopted the system of probation which is a method by which the community through its courts seeks to supervise, discipline and reform offenders without imprisonment. It is used especially for young or first offenders, and for others not hardened in vice or crime. Persons found guilty are conditionally given their liberty under suspension of sentence, and on their good behavior are placed under the helpful oversight of a man or woman appointed by the court as a probation officer. They must observe certain conditions, report regularly to the probation officer, abstain from evil associates and habits; work regularly, and if having a family, pay a certain proportion of their earnings for family support, and in case of failure to observe the conditions, are returned to the court and dealt with. The probation officer keeps informed as to their conduct by home visits, and by friendly and helpful means aids them in every way possible to improve their habits and circumstances.

The state of New York in 1901 followed the State of Massachusetts, and for the last fifteen years the system of probation under a commission originally appointed by Governor Hughes, has done a marvelous and unostentatious work. During the last twelve months 19,000 offenders, instead of being sent to prisons, have been admitted to probation by the court before whom they were brought, and but a small percentage of them have been backsliders. The judge said that the increase of crime in this country was astounding. That it followed racial lines, and that the criminal of today largely belonged to the Slavonic races or came from Southern Italy and Western Asia. Had these 19,000 offenders admitted to probation been sent to prison, the country would have gasped. As it was, probation was the most important development in the administration of the criminal law, and was the most efficient aid to the proper administration of justice, said the judge, the state of New York is not yet equal to the state of Massachusetts where during the last year 28,000 offenders were admitted to probation. Educators and judges had been forced to the conclusion that this largely was due to the decay or discipline in the home. It had come to pass that parents largely expect society religiously, ethically and industrially to educate their children, absolving themselves from this natural duty by the plausible and false plea that they paid taxes to support the public schools.

The judge's address was listened to with the most profound attention and was heartily applauded.

ROWE RAISED A ROW.

Thought College Was a Fort Filled With Allied Armory.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.—New York, Nov. 13.—Jacob Rowe, a baker, and Mr. Poe's raven, are now thoroughly in accord. The first words Rowe uttered when he awoke in the police station today were "Never again."

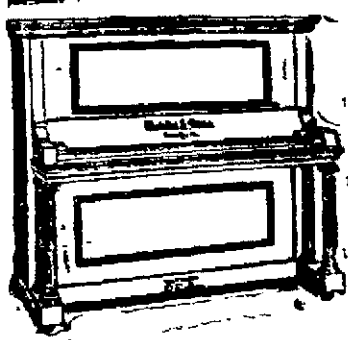

Mr. Rowe attended a wedding celebration last night at which many toasts were drunk. As a result he conceived the idea on his way home of attacking the City College Building in Lexington avenue on the ground that it contained an army of French and English soldiers.

The first volley of shots awoke the entire neighborhood and attracted the attention of a policeman and the lone warrior was locked up charged with intoxication and violation of the Sullivan anti-pistol carrying law.

Quarantine Laws.

Nations are supposed to be sovereign—that is, to have the right to make their own laws, rules and regulations; and this sovereignty holds, in part, at least, for cities, towns and even rural communities. The right of self-preservation is inherent and inalienable, and every citizen, city or countryside has the right of quarantine, if the necessity for it really exists.

VAN WAGENEN'S

WHY HE HAS TO WEAR OLD CLOTHES

Patrick H. Henderson of Sycamore Street is Mourning Absence of Step-son as Latter Disappeared With His Good Clothes.

Patrick H. Henderson of No. 45 Sycamore street, has a good and sufficient reason as to why he is wearing his old clothes on a Sunday, and it is through no fault of his own, as up to last Wednesday he did own a fine suit of new clothing. It seems that Mr. Henderson has a step-son, John H.

Davis. According to Mr. Henderson's story his step-son last Wednesday entered the house and when he left Mr. Henderson's best clothes left with him.

Any information leading to the whereabouts of Mr. Davis would be appreciated by Mr. Henderson as he is anxious to have an interview with his step-son, and ascertain if there is any possibility whereby he can get back his clothing.

It is also understood that the police are anxious to hold a private interview with Mr. Davis regarding an affair that occurred downtown a short time ago. It is said that Mr. Davis is the man who entered a paint store and secured a can of paint stating that he had a contract to paint a house. The storekeeper had no way to see the color of the money for the paint.

The mere fact that Mr. Henderson's clothing is missing, and that some one imposed on a store keeper and secured credit for a pail of paint is not positive proof that Mr. Davis is that kind of a man, but explanations are always in order.

IN SPECIAL TERM.

Orders Grant'd by Justice Hasbrouck on Saturday.

Judge Hasbrouck granted the following orders in special term of supreme court Saturday morning.

In the case of the People ex rel. City of New York against Charles H. Jansen, et al., assessors of the town of Shawangunk, an order was made appointing James A. Betts referee to take evidence in official proceedings.

A final decree of divorce in the case of Maud Busso against Francisco Busso was granted. Brinnier &

Canfield represented the defendant. In the case of Catharine Markle against Frederick J. Markle, an interlocutory decree of divorce was granted. Brinnier & Canfield were counsel for the plaintiff.

In the case of Michael Gordin et al., against Abe Metzger et al., Elsworth Baker was appointed referee to compute amount due. George J. Klein of Centerville, Station, N. Y., was attorney for the plaintiff. The matter was certified to Sullivan county.

In the case of Mary Corcoran against Ambrose Kennedy, as executor, and another, the case on appeal was signed. Peck & Behan represent the defendant. Certified to Rensselaer county.

In the matter of the supplementary proceedings in the case of the Motor Car Equipment Company, Inc., judgment creditor, against George Lowe, judgment debtor, the judge granted an order that the First National Bank of Jeffersonville turn over to the sheriff of Sullivan county or M. M. Hetschel, attorney for the judgment creditor of New York city, $72.50 on deposit with it. Certified to Sullivan county.

Phrases That Are Familiar.

To Barton Booth, a prominent tragic actor of Queen Anne's day, we owe the quotation "True as the needle to the pole," and to Thomas Denman, once lord chief justice of England, that familiar description of a disappointment, "a delusion, a mockery and a snare," used by him as a fit characterization of beauty.

There Are Many Such.

The great trouble with some people is that they insist on conversing about things with which they are not conversant.

Every grocery store has its customers who order POSTUM regularly instead of coffee.

They are former coffee drinkers who, for health's sake, changed their table drink.

If you suspect that coffee contributes to your discomfort or illness, ask the grocer for the names of several POSTUM users in your neighborhood; get in touch with them and hear their story.

Or, secure a tin of INSTANT POSTUM and try it on the family table for ten days instead of coffee.

STREET GOSSIP ABOUT TOWN

"Have you heard the yarn being told about one of the election officials regarding what a voter's intentions were when he marked his ballot?" asked the street corner politician of his friend.

"Can't say I did, what about it?" replied the friend.

"Well it seems that Election Day one of the voters in one of the city wards was evidently under the impression that he was a friend of everybody, and as a result he placed a cross under four circles on the presidential ballot thinking to vote for four candidates," replied the politician.

"What next," queried the friend. "Well when the inspectors started the counting of the ballots one inspector wanted the four cross ballot counted for one of the candidates on the grounds that the cross in the first circle showed that the voter's intentions had been to vote for that candidate."

"On the other hand the other inspector said that might be so but how could any one tell which cross had been made first."

"The first inspector insisted it must have the cross he pointed out as that was where a man would naturally write first."

"That might be so but the other inspector sprung the query. 'But what if the voter was left handed.'"

"It was at this juncture that the realizing thought that the ballot was void under the circumstances struck both inspectors."

"That was some parade Saturday night," said the friend as the politician finished his yarn.

"Yes 'My R. R. Men' were supposed to march," replied the politician.

"How was the parade anyway?" "By actual count 12 railroad men, and 40 kids were in line," replied the friend.

"Well judging from the returns that was about the number of railroad men that voted for Wilson in Ulster county," replied the politician.

"I wonder why the official organ had nothing to say about the mighty demonstration by local railroad men in this morning's paper" asked the friend.

"Well I can tell you," replied the politician with a chuckle. "They did send a reporter out to cover the story but owing to the 'mammoth demonstration' he could not locate the parade. As fast as he got to one end of the town to see the parade pass the 12 men in line had got lost in the usual Saturday evening shopping crowd and it was impossible to tell whether there was a parade or whether it was just the usual turnout of shoppers and then when the parade got along Broadway where there were not many stores the reporter when he saw the 12 men thought they were a few friends out seeing the sight."

"Well then the official organ said that all of the available bands would be engaged to march, and I did not see any band in line at all" said the friend.

"Well I'll tell you when the band men saw how many men were going to march they evidently did not care to parade, and I don't know as I blame them," replied the politician.

"Coming down to actual cases," said the politician "I didn't see where the local Democratic leaders have anything to be proud of over election anyway."

"How do you make that out," asked the friend.

"Well judging from the returns they did not even hold the old line Democrats in line, but they bolted the Democratic ticket and voted for the Republicans," replied the politician.

"That's right" agreed the friend thoughtfully.

"Sure it's right. The returns show that the Democratic leaders really aided the Republicans in rolling up the biggest majority Ulster county had ever given the Republican ticket," said the politician.

"And you figure from that," interrupted the friend.

"Why that the railroad men of Kingston were wiser than the Democratic leaders and realized that the Democratic organization had done nothing to brag about and that's the real reason why the 'big parade' Saturday night was such a fizzle," replied the politician.

HUGHES CASTING HIS BALLOT.

Charles E. Hughes is here shown casting ballot No. 13 in a dingy little laundry in Eighth avenue, New York city. Mr. Hughes arose early and walked from the Hotel Astor accompanied by a friend, two detectives, a flock of newspaper reporters, photographers and "movie" operators. Few people were on the streets so early and consequently no crowd gathered.

When asked if he was superstitious about the number of his ballot Mr. Hughes only laughed.

ONE CENT A WORD ADVS. BRING RESULTS

HAPPY NEW YEAR OF BROTHERHOODS

They Don't Care About Courts But Want Adamson Wage Law in Effect January First or Else They Will Strike.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
New York, Nov. 13.—Unless the railroads put an eight-hour day into effect by January 1 the 499,000 members of the Brotherhood of Railroad Employees will strike. This was the threat issued today as officials of the Brotherhood—the organizations of the union men—went into a secret conference.

The conference committee of the railroad managers was present also. Those representing the Brotherhoods were W. S. Carter, president of the Brotherhood of Firemen and Engineermen; W. G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen; Warren Stone, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers; and L. E. Sheppard, vice-president of the Order of Railway Conductors.

Mr. Lee was spokesman of the Brotherhood heads. He said he does not care what the supreme court decides about the constitutionality of the Adamson eight-hour law. It will be a nation-wide railway strike unless the roads do put the eight-hour day into effect by the first of 1917.

A. B. Garretson, president of the conductors, is in this city but was too ill to attend the conference. The meeting was arranged at the suggestion of Elisha Lee, chairman of the Managers Conference Committee.

After the session it was stated that other meetings would probably be held. W. G. Lee was emphatic in his declaration that a strike could not be avoided unless the railroads put the eight-hour law into effect without waiting to test its constitutionality. He said that the officials of the Brotherhoods were of one mind.

COLD WAVE COMING OUT OF THE WEST

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Washington, Nov. 13.—A cold wave is racing across the country eastward, hurling a broadside of snow and rain over almost every state east of the Rockies. Out in the plains states and great lakes region a blizzard is raging out by the time it reaches the east late tomorrow or Wednesday.

The weather bureau announced today that the south is due for some shifting along with the north. As far south as Alabama and Mississippi the temperature is tumbling and chilly rains are scheduled. The whole middle west will receive a mixture of snow and rain.

The cold wave's fluctuations are so extensive that it is difficult to predict the weather for the North Atlantic States. In New York city, cold rain but no snow seems to be the program, but further north the mercury threatens to go lower.

The cold weather will last only a few days. Low air pressure in the east and high pressure in the northwest is given as the cause for the wave sweeping eastward.

HARD TASK OF PICKING ALL-STAR ELEVEN

MAULBETSCH OF MICHIGAN

GERRICH OF DARTMOUTH

DRISCOLL OF NORTHWESTERN

The pickin' meadows gradually are becoming peopled with youths who are doing stunts that merit their consideration for jobs on the mythical All-American eleven.

The achievements of Harry LeGore of Yale, so far have given him ranking among the greatest halfbacking persons on the profess. There isn't anything that LeGore cannot do—and do exceptionally well.

Andy Hastings, star Pittsburgh backfield, has shown with especial brilliance so far. He was ranked by some as an All-American man in 1915. This season he has played far beyond anything ever shown before. Unless he slips back during the games to come—a possibility remote to an extreme—Hastings will take unto himself a first class job on the All-Star team.

Casey, the Harvard backfield "find," is ranked as "a second Mahan." But how will Casey show when he is put to the Yale and Princeton tests. However, another Crimsonite is being touted strongly in Cambridge for his fine work. Then there is Berry the great Pennsy halfback, who, almost unaided beat the powerful Penn State crew.

McKnight of Washington and Jefferson never a flashy player, has been exhibiting in a way this year that stamps him as one of the really great. McLaren of Pittsburgh is another star; a plunging halfback that reawakens memories of "Wee Willie" Heston. Oilphant, plucked by many last season, is performing in the same dazzling manner for the Army this season. Tibbott of Princeton also has earned plenty of applause.

Sprafka of Minnesota stands out just now as one of the best halfbacks in the West. He has been responsible in the main for the great scoring done so far by his team. Driscoll of Northwestern is another whose work has been scintillating. Harley of Ohio state has started in every game—and in every department of the game.

Among the other halfbacks and fullbacks whose great work merits them much thought are:

Mueller, Cornell; Maulbetsch, Michigan; Macombe, Illinois; Watkins, Colgate; Pollard, Brown; Dellart, Pittsburgh; Briggs, Princeton; Bingham Yale; Hubbard, Colgate; Gerrish, Dartmouth; Thelischer, Dartmouth; Ingram, Navy; Nuss, W. & J., and Carlson, Minnesota.

Turning to quarterbacks, one is confronted instantly with Louie of Minnesota. If any "pivot man" has performed in a more remarkable way this year than Louie, his name is unknown just now. He is wizard-brain, fast, courageous, a grand kicker, and an uncanny runner.

Star quarterbacks are rather scarce in the East. Shiverick of Cornell looks like one of the quarterbacks in the East, with Anderson of Colgate close up. Purdy, Brown; Meehan, Syracuse; Morrow, Pittsburgh; Robinson and Murray, Harvard; Eddy, Princeton; and Stobbs, W. & J. All are good men, but none has flashed his full power so far.

Bob Peck, captain of Pittsburgh, was the All-American center selection by Walter Camp and about 90 per cent of the other critics last year. The Panther leader's work to date makes it look like re-election for him. Heusen of Minnesota struts up as the best man so far uncovered in the West.

White and Schlachter, the 256 and 246-pound Syracuse guards, looked like a peerless pair until that Pitt game. But the way they were forced to give ground before the crashing attack of the Panther backs has lowered their stock. Padua, Harvard; Pettit, Illinois; Hancock, Wisconsin; Norriss, Princeton; Galt, Yale; Neely, Dartmouth; Anderson, Cornell; Winkler, Surely Credulous.

He—"And another thing about Dunderlugh—he's very credulous. That's the reason his money didn't last any longer than it did." She—"Indeed?" He—"Yes. Somebody told him he could make love to two girls on less than he could court one."—Judge.

COLOR BLINDNESS.

The Incident That Opened John Dalton's Eyes to His Affliction.

John Dalton, the famous English chemist and natural philosopher, without whose discovery of the laws of chemical combination chemistry as an exact science could hardly exist, was wholly color blind. His knowledge of the fact came about by a happening of the sort which we call chance. On his mother's birthday, when he was a man of twenty-six, he took her a pair of stockings which he had seen in a shop window, labeled, "Silk, the newest fashion."

"These have bought me a pair of grand hose, John," said the mother, "but what made thee fancy such a bright color? Why, I can never show myself at meeting in them."

John was much disconcerted, but he could not but be concerned the stockings to be of a very proper go to meeting color, as they were a dark bluish drab.

"Why, they're as red as a cherry, John," was her astonished reply.

Neither he nor his brother, Jonathan, could see anything but drab in the stockings, and they rested in the belief that the good wife's eyes were out of order until she, having consulted various neighbors, returned with the verdict, "Varra fine stuff, but uncommon scarlet."

The consequence was that John Dalton became the first to direct the attention of the scientific world to the subject of color blindness.

MYSTERIOUS METASTASIO.

Peculiar Mode of Life of the Celebrated Italian Poet.

Metastasio (1698-1782), the celebrated dramatic and operatic poet, spent fifty-five years in Vienna with the Martines family without ever learning German or wishing to learn it.

Besides his utter indifference to all speech but Italian, Metastasio possessed many peculiarities of character. None might mention death in his presence. Those who alluded to smallpox before him he made it a point not to see again. In all his fifty-five years in Vienna he never gave away more than the equivalent of $25 to the poor. He always occupied the same seat at church, but never paid for it.

Metastasio took all his meals in the most mysterious privacy. His great friends had never seen him eat anything but a biscuit with some lemonade. Nothing would induce him to dine away from home. He never changed his wig or the cut or color of his coat.

Metastasio was to have been presented to the pope the day he died and raved about the intended interview in the delirium of his last moments. Mrs. Plozzi (familiar to readers of Boswell's "Life of Dr. Johnson" as Mrs. Thrale) collected these particulars from the ladies of the Martines family, with whom Metastasio was so long domiciled without speaking or understanding a word of their language from first to last.

Some Welsh Words.

Welsh is a marvellously expressive language. In a souvenir guide to Carnarvon there is a list of Welsh railway stations with their English equivalents. Here are some of them: Aber-gwlad, entrance to the place of bliss; Amwch, a place of frequent expansion; Cefn Brynch, the back of the screaming hill; Dowials, the voice of God; and Llanbister, the manure yard road. There is also one station the name of which runs to fifty-eight letters. Its meaning is merely, "The fair church at the pool of the white seal; near the alder grove where the fodder for the oxen is stored in the red barn." And surely tetralogism ought to flourish in a country where beer is known as "cwrw."—Pall Mall Gazette.

In that form the name is traced back continuously to Don Pedro Ferragut, who fought with James I. of Aragon in expelling the Moors from Minorca in 1229. In the interval the Ferraguts played a prominent part in the affairs of the Balearic islands.—New York Sun.

CHANCELLOR VON BETHMANN-HOLLWEG

GERMANY WILLING TO BACK LEAGUE TO PREVENT WARS.

Berlin, Nov. 13.—Germany is prepared, when the war ends, to co-operate to her fullest extent in an endeavor to find some means of preventing war in the future, probably by means of an international league. This is the statement of Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg, made before the main committee of the Reichstag, in a long speech, principally devoted to relating the recent charge of Earl Gray, British Foreign Minister, that Germany started the war.

"If at and after the end of the war the world will only become fully conscious of the horrifying destruction of life and property," said the Imperial Chancellor, "then through the whole of humanity there will rise out a cry for peaceful arrangements and understanding which as far as are within human power will avoid the return of such a monstrous catastrophe. This cry will be so powerful and so justified that it must lead to some result."

DUBOIS TRIED TO BEAT BOARD BILL

Negro on Parole from Elmira Reformatory Tried to Dodge Paying $7.—Arrested and Sent to Jail.

Frank Dubois, a negro, 23 years old, who has been stopping in Kingston on parole from Elmira Reformatory where he was sent to serve time for a crime, was arrested on Sunday on complaint of Mrs. Lena Cantine, who claimed Dubois owed her $7 for board. Dubois was arraigned before Recorder Lang this morning.

Mrs. Cantine said that Dubois had been stopping at her house, and that one day he took his lunch pail, and without saying a word to her, left the house and never came back. That led to her swearing out a warrant for his arrest.

Dubois wanted the court to let him go this time so he could get to work and earn enough money to pay the $7, but the court informed him that he had had plenty of time to have paid the bill, but had shown no disposition to do so.

It was brought out that Dubois at the present time is out on parole from the Elmira reformatory.

Recorder Lang sentenced him to 15 days in the county jail and the police will notify the reformatory authorities.

OPPENHEIMER BROS.

MENKE'S DAILY
SPORTING LETTER

(By Frank G. Menke).

New York, Nov. 13.—The trotting season of 1916 probably was the most successful in the entire history of the "sport of kings."

So many records were established that it would take an adding machine to total all of them. One after another the old marks of years standing were wiped out and new ones posted. And many of those endured for only a week or so, when they, too, were effaced by some newer burst of speed by one or another of the many remarkable horses that were campaigned in 1916.

And from out of the dust of many thrilling brushes, emerges Tommy Murphy, of Poughkeepsie, to wear again the crown that goes to the champion reinsman. The great New York state pilot of trotters and pacers won $83,557 during the season, which topped the second place Walter "Shot" Cox by close to $10,000.

Summary of the 1916, and a comparison with that of 1915, follows:

Year, 1916; meetings, 12; races, 245; heats, 782; average time, 2:08.09; purses, $472,418.

Year, 1915; meetings, 10; races, 206; heats, 697; average time, 2:08.57; purses, $427,758.

The fastest average time was made in Columbus, with 2:07.04; the slowest was in Atlanta, where the average was 2:10.01. The richest meeting was the one in Lexington, Ky., where $88,620 in purse money was distributed. Atlanta was the "poor" meeting, the awards there totalling only $21,820.

The winnings of the leading drivers follow:

Driver	Total
T. W. Murphy	$83,557.00
Walter Cox	73,732.00
Alonso McDonald	30,852.75
E. F. Geers	30,534.50

ORGAN RECITAL TO

Possibilities of Memorial Organ to be Brought Out by Harry Sykes at Church of the Redeemer Wednesday Evening—Mr. Hassler Bartlett.

What promises to be a rare musical treat is the organ recital to be given Wednesday evening on the handsome Hildebrandt memorial organ in the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, Wurts street, by Harry Sykes of Norristown, Pa., a musician of exceptional attainments. As is well known, the organ is one of the largest and best in the city, being equipped with a beautiful echo organ and rich, sweet-toned chimes. The program will be of such a nature as to bring out to best advantage the magnificent properties of the instrument under the hands of master artist.

ORGANIST HARRY SYKES.

Mr. Sykes will be assisted by John Hassler, a baritone of unusual ability, whose part in the program is expected to meet the most exacting requirements of music-lovers.

Speaking of a recent recital by Mr. Sykes, the Norristown, Pa., Times says that the most exacting critic could not ask more. "It is difficult," says the Times, "for an artist of Mr. Sykes's ability to elevate technical training above personality and combine the two in just the proper proportions. Mr. Sykes does that, however, a circumstance that always contributes to the enjoyment of his programs. Last night he gave a wide range of selections, from the simple, charming Evesong of Johnston, rendered with exquisite solemnity, to the magnificent Prelude and Fugue in A Minor, of Bach, which was most effectively interpreted by his numbers, possibly excepting the well-known Humoresque which appealed most generally on the ground of its familiarity to the audience."

Program of Hummel Concert.

The following is the exceedingly interesting program to be played at the concert to be given by Earle Myer Hummel, assisted by Ford Hummel, violinist; Joseph Mathieu, tenor, of New York; and Charles Gilbert Spross, pianist, of New York, at the First Presbyterian Church on the evening of Friday of this week: Concert in D Minor.....J.
